ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Anti-Americanism is reported mounting in Guinea following the refusal of Ghana's government to release a Guinean delegation held hostage in Accra.

Guinea charged that the United States had a hand in the detention of the 19 Guinean diplomats and students who were taken off a plane Saturday night when it stopped in Accra en route to a meeting of the Organization of African Unity in Ethiopia.

Ghana cleared the United States of any complicity and the U.S. State Department denied it played any part in the affair. But a broadcast from Guinea said 50,000 persons paraded in front of the U.S. Embassy in Conakry, the capital, Monday shouting "Down with the Yankees!" and "Yankies get out of Africa!"

A U.S. State Department spokesman, Carl Barthel, said in Washington that anti-American demonstrators also invaded the U.S. ambassador's residence in Conakry, breaking windows and some furniture.

U.S. Ambassador Robinson Mollivaine was put under house arrest in Conakry Sunday, but the State Department said he was allowed to leave his residence without a guard Monday.

However, Barthel said other members of the U.S. Embassy staff were under some sort of "office arrest."

The Conakry broadcast indicated the Guinean government felt the United States was involved because the Guineans arrested in Ghana were flying on an American airline, Pan American World Airways. The Pan American manager in Conakry also was placed under house arrest and was still restricted Monday.

Ghana's government chief, Lt. Gen. J.A. Ankrah, declared the Guinean delegation will not be released until Ghanaians held in Guinea are freed. He said Guinea is holding more than 100 Ghanaians who were arrested after a military coup overthrew President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana and he took refuge in Guinea.

Poppy Day Scheduled November 5

From Flander's Fields comes the origin and emotional impact of Poppy Day.

Once again on this day those dedicated men and women will be giving of their time and effort to this most deserving cause. In the past the success of this campaign has been to educating the public as to the meaning of Poppy Day.

It would be well that the thousands of men who lie beneath the white crosses of Flander's Field, could rise up and tell their true story of Poppy Day. To those brave men who gave their last measure of devotion to their country, this day is dedicated.

The benefits of this day are far reaching the little girl with the tattered dress and no shoes, the family sitting around a bare dinner table, the young boy with no hope for an education and that old man bed ridden and senile whose only hope is the sight of Poppy.

A Poppy Story written by a native son. This year the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion will again offer you an opportunity to help November 5. Buy a Poppy! Mrs. Leon Bundy, Chairman.

through the years we have had more than our share of students who have graduated with honors from the various colleges and Universities they have attended. We realize that school consolidation in many instances is necessary and even desirable. We feel, however, that the quality of the education offered by the school rather than the number of pupils enrolled should be the deciding factor. Yours truly, EUREKA SPRINGS PTA EXECUTIVE BOARD Robert Kappen, President Oct. 31, 1966 Eureka Springs, Ark.

American's Charge Called Ridiculous

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Brazilian official says allegations of intrigue related by a convicted smuggler who fled Brazil and returned to his Texas home are "ridiculous."

The Texan, pilot Joseph A. Truhill, 47, of Richardson, said his conviction resulted from plans of Gen. Rio Grandino Krueh, former chief of Brazil's federal security police, to seize a B26 aircraft for use in a search for a missing 400-carat diamond named 007.

The plane was owned by Sam Sexton Jr., 41, of Fort Smith, Ark., who escaped last week with Truhill and Joseph McCutcheon, 36, also of Fort Smith. The plane still is held in Brazil.

Brasilia Police Chief Jurandir Palma Cabral said Truhill's charge was "ridiculous," since the security police "can use air force planes whenever it needs them."

U.S. officials in Brazil also cast private doubts on a link between the diamond and the smuggling convictions earlier this year of Truhill, Sexton, McCutcheon and Ralph E. Dial, 47, an Oklahoma City geologist.

They said timing of the events did not match. Dial, who did not escape, said he was being treated "very nice" but that the others' escapes may delay his bid for freedom from a seven-year sentence.

The four men were convicted of smuggling tantale ore, used in space vehicle heat shields, from Brazil.

Camden Man Shot to Death

HINESVILLE, Ga. (AP)—A former Camden, Ark., resident, Paul H. Slade Jr., 36, of Savannah, Ga., was killed Sunday when he was shot in the left shoulder and neck while driving through the Ft. Stewart Military Reservation.

Authorities said Monday they were investigating the possibility that Slade was killed by a hunter.

State Income Tax Take $1.1 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Individual and corporate income tax collections for October totaled $1,191,047, the state Revenue Department said Monday.

Gls Told U.S. Proud of Them

By FRANK CORMIER
CAMP STANLEY, Korea (AP) — "Keep your chin up and your chest out — we are proud of you and I came here to tell you so," President Johnson today told American troops confronting the Communists in Korea.

The President traveled by train and helicopter into the rugged South Korean countryside to pay tribute to Korean and American troops guarding the 151-mile border with Communist North Korea.

Speaking earnestly and in a low voice Johnson in an off-the-cuff speech told the troops 20 miles south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea they were "doing a mighty good job" of protecting freedom in the United States and many parts of the world. He said no matter what they may read about anti-Viet Nam demonstrators or draft card burners, the great bulk of Americans are like them — standing up for freedom.

Johnson began his second day in South Korea with an hour's meeting with President Chung Hee Park. They discussed Viet Nam, where South Korea has 45,000 troops, and Park's request for more U.S. funds to equip troops to replace them at home.

After their talk, Johnson and Park drove through cheering, flag-waving crowds to take a special train for a 193 mile ride to the headquarters of the 28th Korean Infantry Division and nearby U.S. Camp Stanley.

At the Korean camp Johnson conferred U.S. Silver Star medals on three South Korean heros of the Viet Nam War.

Harvey, chairman of the Legislative Council, said the letters to the council were written by J. W. Hull of Arkansas Tech at Russellville and Dr. Carl R. Reng of Arkansas State College at Jonesboro.

Reng said he thought such action would do "irreparable damage" to the ability to function of the Arkansas Commission on Co-ordination of Higher Educational Finance.

Hull said that if the council votes to restore the funds, he wants the same consideration for Tech.

The council was asked by university President Dr. David W. Mullins to restore some of the cuts.

FBI Chief Cites Infamy, Hate in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the United States "wears a yoke of infamy — a yoke made of greed, hate, violence, apathy and lawlessness."

In a message in the FBI's monthly Law Enforcement Bulletin, Hoover assailed demonstrators, the courts and the apathy of many citizens for what he called a "criminalistic burden" that grows heavier from year to year.

"How is the cause of equal justice under law favored by noisy, defiant mobs yelling slogans, denying the free exercise of constitutional rights of other citizens, and turning whole communities into nightmarish jungles of looting, rioting and assault?" he asked.

"Can we seriously consider, even for a moment, that this is the precious right our forefathers referred to as a peaceable assembly to petition the government for a redress of grievances?"

Hoover said also that too many well-meaning "but misguided Americans not only support the doctrine of lawbreaking for a worthy end but also oppose penalties for violators."

In many instances, he said, the question of guilt "is obscured and lost in a maze of procrastinating technicalities and legal jousting. Many times, truth, which often exposes guilt, is only a secondary objective; the main search is for error or a technical loophole for the murderer or hoodlum."

FBI Arrests U.S. Airman, Russian Diplomat for Spying

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A German-born U.S. airman has been arrested and a Soviet diplomat ordered to leave the country in the fourth major American spy case reported since July by the FBI.

Staff Sgt. Herbert William Boeckenhaupt, 23, was seized Monday by FBI agents at March Air Force Base in Riverside, Calif. He was arraigned here on a charge of conspiring to commit espionage to deliver to a Russian diplomat "information relating to the national defense of the United States."

Boeckenhaupt, who lived in Superior, Wis., with his family since immigrating to the United States in 1948, pleaded innocent. He was ordered held on $50,000 bail.

After the FBI announced the sergeant's arrest, the State Department asked Aleksey R. Malinin, commercial counsel at the Soviet Embassy in Washington, to leave the country as soon as possible.

Boeckenhaupt, stationed at the Pentagon from April 1964 to August 1965, allegedly met secretly with Malinin in June 1965 and April 1966. He had enlisted in the Air Force in 1960 at the age of 17.

The FBI did not disclose whether any money was involved in the alleged meetings, nor whether any information was actually passed.

Agents also refused to say what Boeckenhaupt's duties were at the Pentagon, although he was a communications repairman at March.

The FBI said Boeckenhaupt met with Malinin in June 1965, in an Arlington, Va., suburb where Malinin questioned the serviceman about his duties at the Pentagon.

The men reportedly met again in a bowling alley parking lot last April, and Malinin gave Boeckenhaupt a 35mm slide that pinpointed "drop areas" and meeting places, the FBI said.

Boeckenhaupt lives with his wife near March Air Force Base. Agents said his apartment was searched with the sergeant's consent last week.

U.S. Commissioner Russell R. Herman, set a preliminary hearing on the case for Nov. 18. "I'm not guilty," the tall, dark-haired sergeant told newsmen.

Malinin, 45, came to the United States Sept. 12, 1963 and was assigned to the Soviet Embassy two months later.

Enemy Guns Unleashed on Saigon

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong unleashed an artillery bombardment on the center of Saigon today in a spectacular but unsuccessful attempt to disrupt South Viet Nam's National Day observances.

Six Vietnamese and one American were known dead. Conflicting reports listed up to six more killed but these reports could not be verified. The one American known dead was a Navy officer.

The Viet Cong hurled 24 rounds of 75mm recoilless rifle fire in and around the parade route, U.S. military headquarters said. Vietnamese authorities reported mortar shells also struck during the shelling.

The bombardment hit Saigon's Roman Catholic cathedral, a Catholic school, the John F. Kennedy Square, the Saigon central market and the French-built Grail Hospital, the biggest in the capital.

The bombardment, first of its kind by the Viet Cong against Saigon, failed to interrupt the massive parade marking the third anniversary of the overthrow of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

For two hours and 20 minutes, soldiers of the South Vietnamese armed forces and the six nations allied with them paraded before tens of thousands and leading Vietnamese and foreign dignitaries.

U.S. military headquarters said the shelling came from a point 3 1/2 miles southeast of Saigon near An Khanh Ka. Six U.S. gunship helicopters closed in on the area and artillery spotter planes were aloft. A ground force of allied troops also swept the area but the Viet Cong gunners apparently escaped.

U.S. headquarters announced that three Viet Cong were captured near the parade grounds on Kennedy Square. A spokesman said they were armed with grenades and small arms. A Vietnamese spokesman said four more Viet Cong, armed with grenades and weapons, were seized in the vicinity of the parade route.

The U.S. psychological warfare section set to work immediately to prepare leaflets to be dropped from the air over both North and South Viet Nam. A spokesman said the leaflets would decry the "murder of the innocents" and point out "the desperation of the Viet Cong in seeking to revive its flagging prestige."

He said printing of the leaflets would start Wednesday and would carry a photograph of a woman killed in the central market square by the shelling.

'Cold War' GIs Would Flood Colleges

By GAYLORD SHAW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 250,000 of America's "cold war" veterans have streamed onto college campuses this fall to continue their education with the aid of the new GI Bill, officials reported today.

Settlement of the Viet Nam war and the subsequent return to civilian life of many of the 336,000 troops now committed to the conflict would send the total zooming upward, they said, perhaps causing severe overcrowding in some schools.

Under the measure — commonly known as the "Cold War GI Bill" — signed by President Johnson on March 3, honorably discharged veterans with more than 180 days active military service since Jan. 31, 1955 are eligible for educational, housing and other benefits.

The program, approved by Congress without a dissenting vote, amounts to an extension of World War II and Korean War GI benefits, but on a reduced scale.

The Veterans Administration said 211,000 October benefit checks had been mailed by last Friday to veterans enrolled in colleges, universities and other institutions — such as vocational or business schools. Files of 35,000 applicants were being processed Monday, a spokesman said.

Officials said they expect the figure to level off at about 240,000 this school year. About 64,000 veterans attended summer classes after the program went into effect June 1.

The new bill covers veterans who served in the war in Viet Nam. But VA officials said their records do not show how many veterans of the Viet Nam conflict are benefitting from the measure.

Under the new program, an unmarried student can collect $100 a month in educational aid,

Food Boycott Started at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two women have joined forces to start a boycott of chain grocery stores in the Little Rock-North Little Rock area in protest of rising food prices.

Mrs. Bonnie Pahls of Little Rock said Monday she and Mrs. John Standridge of Sylvan Hills were forming a group known as Housewives Enforcing Lower Prices (HELP).

She said they spent Monday gathering about 500 signatures on petitions at four shopping centers. Mrs. Pahls said they would present the petitions Friday to four chain stores and send copies to President Johnson, Gov. Orval Faubus and the Department of Commerce.

She said the boycott was to start Friday.

In another development, Charles W. White, vice president of Kroger's Arkansas division, issued a statement saying that a "cost-price squeeze" had raised the cost of goods and services to a point that Kroger was realizing only a one percent profit in its retail stores.

Meanwhile, J. Beaurie Talbot III of Pine Bluff, a Republican candidate for state representative, said he was inviting housewives in the Pine Bluff area to a meeting Thursday to protest high food and milk prices.

Talbot said he was not advocating a general boycott, but that he thought prices would come down if there was some restraint in buying.

Johnson to Help A-State Gain Status

Jim Johnson, Democratic nominee for governor, reaffirmed his pledge Monday night to support university status for Arkansas State College at Jonesboro and also said he supported a proposed $5 million health complex for Jonesboro.

Republican Winthrop Rockefeller was not on the campaign trail Monday, but he'll carry his fight for the governorship into northeast Arkansas today, speaking at Jonesboro tonight.

The two candidates for the state's highest office are in their final week of campaigning before voters decide one week from today which will serve the next two years.

Johnson also appeared on television at Fort Smith, Jonesboro and Springfield, Mo., in a taped speech in which he questioned validity of Rockefeller's Conway County property assessment.

Johnson said Rockefeller "would at least pay the modest school tax on his own property" if he were as interested in education as he claims.

The Democratic candidate charged that Rockefeller claimed in his assessment not to own an air conditioner, radio, television set, jewelry and other items.

Floyd Trafford, controller of Winrock Farms, said Rockefeller paid more than $30,000 in real and personal property taxes in Conway County and that he had lumped the items Johnson mentioned into a $1,000 assessment.

Johnson also charged that Rockefeller was a "counterfeit cowboy" whose real interests were in making Arkansas a "colonial appendage" of New York.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Can two talented, fresh-faced young men find success in television? The Smothers Brothers didn't the first time around, but in keeping with the American tradition of fair play, they'll get another chance.

It could have happened next January. Tom and Dick were sought for an hour-long variety show first by ABC and then by NBC, which wanted them to sub for the ailing Garry Moore show.

That would have placed them opposite the seemingly unconquerable "Bonanza." To quote Red Skelton: "I wouldn't give that spot to a leopard." But "Bonanza" held no terror for the Brothers Smothers.

"Don't you think Phil Silvers was worried when he was placed opposite Mr. Television?" reasons Dick, the serious brother. "Yet it wasn't long before Sgt. Bilko knocked Milton Berle off the air."

"We would have liked the spot opposite 'Bonanza.' A show that has been on the air for eight years is due for a fall."

But the Smothers turned down the offers to sub midseason for Garry Moore or "Jericho." Their reasons?

"I'm just too beat," says Tom, the screwball brother. "I've been having a divorce and an ulcer, and I still haven't recovered from the last series. I don't want to go into another series tired. Everything has to be right, because we wouldn't get a third chance."

More than a hundred snowy owls were seen in Wisconsin during the winter of 1960-61.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

WANTING TO CHANGE

Dear Helen: My problem is sort of wierd. I'm a high school sophomore. All my life people have been telling me how "cute" I am. I didn't realize this was going to my head. Honest, I didn't mean for it to.

It started a couple of years ago. I guess I got bossy and acting like I owned the world. When you're kind of a leader, it goes to your head. Well, the girls started closing me out, and instead of seeing the reason why, I got all the more so, just to show them.

Now when anyone new comes to school, the girls take them aside and tell them, "Don't bother with S—. She thinks she's too cute."

I admit I used to think people should right off like me best, but I know better now. Please tell me how I can win back some of my popularity. I try my best not to act the way they say I act, but what can you do when the girls have put the word out on you and people's minds are closed against you? — Trying To Change

Dear Trying: I'm pretty sure the Humpty Dumpty rhyme was written for people like you: It's so easy to fall, and so hard to put yourself back together again. But not impossible. . . . Who knows, Humpty might have walked away from his fall as a chicken.

Keep trying to change, but keep in mind that somebody's jealousy may have given you that first shove. If this is the case, then others will begin to realize it when they see you acting friendly and interested and "not at all like whatchacaller said."

It will take a while for the "new you" to catch on, but a cute leader-type doesn't stay dumped out of it a smarter chick. — H.

Dear Helen: A while back my girl friend and I went with two boys we knew slightly — just once. They were well-dressed, had nice cars and good backgrounds. They seemed to have nice manners. We soon realized they expected too much of us. Maybe because they were older. We told them "No" and they seemed to accept it and took us home.

A few months later we met them at a fair. They took us home. Since they seemed to understand the first time, we were shocked when they tried again. We both got mad and perhaps were ruder than necessary. But we seemed to part friends.

I guess they've got the idea

The "Fabulous Forties" was the theme for the fashion show presented by DuPont in The Great Hall of the Dallas Apparel Mart and fabulous it was!

To begin with The Great Hall is the greatest....looks for the world like a Castle court-yard setting and then with Jimmy Dorsey's Orchestra, Helen O'Connell and Bob Eberly singing, a score of beautiful models plus... some of the smartest new fashions that have ever been designed....it was a shop-keepers paradise.

The silhouette of the show's collection included the avant garde shapes of the moment, the easy-moving tent, the low flip-skirt and the A-line skimmer. There were pants suits with ruffled blouses for the very feminine and turtle neck shirts for the more tailored activities. Lingerie in dream floats of nylon tricot left everyone floating in a dream of the holiday business yet to come....

And that brings us right to Raley's Style Shoppe. Our holiday merchandise is coming in NOW....just listen to what happened this morning! We opened Parkland's collection of lurex skimmers, in silver, gold and heavenly blue; simple and uncluttered, wear it with or without the belt, definitely NEW looking and only $25. And Jonathan Logan sent us that little sleeveless shift with the A-line skirt like we had in fall colors but now in lovely pastels. Wear with it your long dangling earrings and one of those multi-colored hunks of beads. Dress only $18.00, jewelry, $4.00 per set.

we don't like them at all, because they haven't called us since. We would like to date them occasionally because they are sharp guys and they must know by now that we are nice girls. Should we call them, or something? — Eager To Know

Dear Eager: Call them — "Zilch!" and look for boys your own ages. These sharp guys "know by now you are nice girls." — Which wasn't what they had in mind. — H.

I am an 18-year-old girl, an "Air Force Brat," as we are happily called. I have been raised to say "Sir" and "ma'am" and often answer my friends in this manner. Dear Helen: "Correct" child-ers for saying "Sir" to "inferiors, even teenagers." GRRRRR! She made my blood boil. I know of no more superior part of the human race than our teens.

Also I feel that by giving one, whether child, old man, woman of the street or an ordinary gal like myself, the dignity of being called "Sir, Miss, Ma'am, lady, or gentleman" that person will unconsciously stand a little taller and perhaps try to be what he or she is not.

Pro Football Extends to New Orleans

By BEN THOMAS
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—This historic city becomes the 15th member of the National Football League today.

A news conference was scheduled for 10 a.m. CST. today to announce the awarding of the franchise to New Orleans.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle—who will be the czar of the super-league when the National and American leagues complete their merger in 1970—quietly arrived in town late Monday night for the announcement session.

New Orleans will field a team in the NFL next season.

The name most frequently mentioned for the team is the New Orleans — or Louisiana — Saints, from the city's Dixie-land heritage. Today, incidentally, is All Saints Day.

However, it will be up to the owner of the franchise to select the team name. Rozelle said on a visit here last week that the NFL would study the applications for ownership after announcing the franchise city and decide on the owner within a few days.

Louis J. Roussel, a 34-year-old New Orleans street car motor-man as a teen-ager who now has an oil and banking fortune exceeding $150 million, is the leading candidate and probable choice, The Associated Press learned.

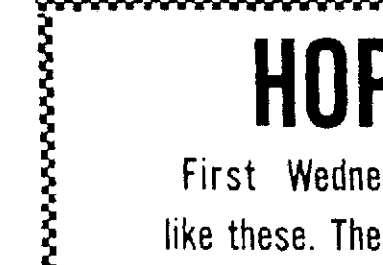

New Orleans has been seeking a pro franchise since 1960. The prime mover in the drive was David Dixon, who has promoted NFL exhibition games here for several years.

Dixon was out stumping the state Monday in support of a constitutional amendment—to be decided a week from today—which would establish a commission empowered to levy a hotel occupancy tax in metropolitan New Orleans and use the proceeds to finance bonds for a Superdome Sports Stadium.

Tulane University has said it would permit a pro team to use its 82,500-seat stadium as an interim facility—no more than three years.

Although the stadium—site of the post-season Sugar Bowl game for collegiate teams—is one of the country's largest, it has almost no parking facilities.

Five cities have served as the capital of Georgia—Savannah, Augusta, Louisville, Milledgeville and Atlanta.

Redskins Doing Better Under Otto

By TOM SEPPY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Redskins are bidding for their best season in 10 years, but Coach Otto Graham doesn't care too much for history. He prefers to look into the future.

"We've got three good ones coming up," Graham told a news conference. "And I'm thinking only of Sunday's game with the Colts. That's enough to worry about."

The Colts routed Washington 35-0 in a pre-season game and have whipped the Redskins six straight times in regular games.

The Redskins have a 5-3 record but now face Baltimore, the Dallas Cowboys and the Cleveland Browns, in that order.

Later in the season they have return matches with Dallas, the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles, whom they defeated Sunday 27-13.

The 1956 Washington team won five of its first eight games and finished third behind the Giants and the Cardinals with a 6-6 record.

This year's Redskins have won five of their last six games, losing only to the lowly New York Giants during that span.

Graham refused to predict how the team might finish in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League.

"It's difficult to assess the club," he said. "We're not that good. We really have to fight for our lives out there."

"We haven't developed that killer instinct. It takes time to develop that pride... that esprit de corps."

Yale Coach Elated Over Greenberg

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—"You can talk only in superlatives when you go over what Glenn does for our team," declared Yale Football Coach Carmen Cozza as he enumerated the talents of defensive tackle Glenn Greenberg.

Glenn, the son of baseball Hall of Fame member Hank Greenberg, teams with Yale captain Bob Greenlee to play a major role in the top rated defensive line in the Ivy League.

"Of all the players I've coached, they're the best at their position," Cozza says, "and Glenn will be back next year."

Greenberg, 6-foot-2 and 235 pounds, and Greenlee, 6-foot-4 and 240, were the first names mentioned by the coaches of every team Yale has faced this season when the coaches listed the problems the Bulldogs present.

"Bob will be a top draft choice of the pro football teams this year, and Glenn will be just as highly rated next year. Both have the size, and more than enough brains and speed to be top professionals at either tackle or end," says Mac Yoho, a

Porkers Go Up Notch in Nat'l Poll

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Nebraska's convincing 35-0 victory over Missouri enabled the unbeaten Cornhuskers to move into sixth place in the Associated Press major-college football poll today.

Georgia Tech and Arkansas also gained ground while Notre Dame maintained a solid first-place margin over runner-up Michigan State.

Southern California, upset by Miami of Florida, tumbled four places to ninth, and Tennessee climbed into the Top Ten, replacing Wyoming.

Notre Dame, undefeated in six games, collected 39 first-place votes and 475 points in the latest balloting by a national panel of 49 sports writers and broadcasters. The Irish trampled Navy 31-7 last Saturday.

Michigan State held the No. 2 position with 437 points, including 60 for six first-place votes. The Spartans blanked Northwestern 22-0 for their seventh victory without a defeat.

UCLA and Alabama held third and fourth places, respectively, the Bruins with 366 points and the Tide with 347. Points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

UCLA downed the Air Force 38-13 and Alabama defeated Mississippi State 27-14.

Georgia Tech climbed one place to fifth after trampling Duke 48-7. Nebraska, eighth a week ago, advanced two notches. The Cornhuskers, 7-0-0, walloped Missouri in a regionally televised game.

Florida, 30-27 winner over Auburn, remained in the No. 7 position while Arkansas, which beat Texas A&M 34-0, moved up on place to eighth.

Southern California, fifth last week, was beaten by Miami 10-7 Friday night.

Twice-beaten Tennessee took over 10th place. The Vols trimmed Army 38-7 Saturday while Wyoming lost to Colorado State University 12-10.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and total points:

veteran pro lineman who now coaches the defensive line at Yale.

Cozza, who was an assistant to John Pont as Yale coach when Glenn enrolled as a freshman, says: "I'd seen him playing baseball against the Yale freshmen when Glenn was at Andover. He didn't impress me then as either a baseball or football prospect."

"What I didn't realize then was that Glenn was just starting to grow," Cozza recalled, "he's only 19 now because he skipped a grade in school somewhere, and he might go 250 pounds next year without losing a bit of his speed."

Concerning his baseball skill, a subject often encountered as the son of a man who hit 58 home runs in 1938, Glenn says: "When I was younger I was good for my age, but in prep school I realized I didn't have the talent."

"Dad understands, and he's given me a lot of encouragement in football, and for any sport," Glenn says.

Costly Rookies Shine When Given Chance

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski still are only spear-carriers in the Green Bay Packers cast which Vince Lombardi admits "eventually will be a fine team."

The $1-million bonus babies, who joined the Packers as rookies after the College All-Star Game last August, get into the ball games in the late stages when they are already won or lost. They do make their presence known when they get a shot.

Only in the Atlanta game, a 56-3 rout, did Coach Lombardi give the rookies much of a chance to shine. Donny, the flashy halfback from Texas Tech, carried five times for 15 yards against the Falcons and scored a touchdown on a five-yard run.

He also flashed some of that $600,000 class by returning a punt 77 yards for another TD. To round out the day, Donny also kicked two punts averaging 44.5 yards.

Grabowski came out of that Atlanta game, Oct. 23, as the leading rusher with 52 yards on seven trips, including a 26-yard scamper.

It was after this game that regular fullback Jim Taylor revealed he still was unsigned and was playing out his option with the Packers.

The season totals for Anderson show total yardage of 388 with 52 on carries, 19 on two pass receptions, 78 on two punt runbacks and 239 on 10 kickoff returns.

When Paul Hornung was unable to play against the Lions Sunday due to a pinched nerve, Lombardi went to the veteran Elijah Pitts as his starting halfback, although Anderson eventually is due to get the job.

Grabowski, the Illinois boy who is waiting behind Taylor, has carried the ball only 12 times all season and has gained 56 yards. His one pass reception gained five yards. Both have been used on some of the special teams.

Lombardi has been going along with much the same team that won for him last year. Why not? They have won seven out of eight games and lead the Western Conference of the National Football League.

Lion Coach Gilmer Is Under Axe

By WHITEY SAWYER
DETROIT (AP)—Is Detroit Lion Coach Harry Gilmer's neck under the axe?

According to fans of the National Football League, he's on his way out. As Green Bay whipped the Lions 31-7 here Sunday, they were singing, "Goodbye, Harry, we're going to see you gone."

Signs appeared in the stands saying "Bye, bye, Harry." But the man who owns the club, Bill Ford, was quite emphatic when he said, "We're going to keep him." For Ford, it's the same tune he sang earlier this year it became apparent that the Lions were in trouble.

Gilmer, who has a three-year contract running through 1967, said, "I didn't see the signs and the singing was very poor."

But the Lions have lost five straight games and are 2-6 in the NFL's Western Division. It's their longest losing streak in 11 years, since they dropped six straight in 1955. And it could easily go to six against the Chicago Bears this week.

Despite the recent addition of a passing offense with rookie Karl Sweeten at quarterback in place of the injured Milt Plum, the Lions have played poorly. Time after time their drives have been blunted by interceptions, fumbles and penalties.

Maxwell and Johnson May Not Play

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Monday that tailback Bruce Maxwell and line-backer Lee Johnson are on the doubtful list as possible starters when the Razorbacks collide with Rice at Little Rock Saturday afternoon.

Maxwell has a pulled muscle and Johnson a knee injury. Neither played in last week's 34-0 triumph over Texas A&M, a performance that provided the top grades of the year for the Porkers.

"It's had to pick out individuals because we graded high in everything — pass rush, offense, punt returns — everything," Broyles said. "This is the best performance we've had in everything."

Broyles said Don Richardson has been placed on the varsity to back David Dickey at tailback and George Calhoun is being switched from monster man to line-backer.

At Houston, most of the Rice starters took it easy as reserves scrimmaged against freshmen. Chuck Latourette, the Owl safety from Jonesboro, Ark., was sent to his room with a 100-degree temperature and a sore throat.

Jockeys Will Not Hold an Election

BALTIMORE (AP)—Because of a fire which wiped out its headquarters, the National Jockeys Hall of Fame will not hold an election this year, chairman Herman Cohen announced today.

A fire last June 16 destroyed the Members' Clubhouse at Pimlico Race Course, a frame structure which housed the Hall of Fame and its memorabilia including oil portraits of its 22 members.

Cohen said artist Henry Cooper, who painted portraits of the 22 jockeys enshrined since the Hall of Fame opened in 1955, has been commissioned to begin anew.

Injuries Plague All SWC Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The injury situation in Southwest Conference football wasn't much better and neither was it much worse as the teams aimed at a Saturday schedule that has three conference games, two much importance.

The big clash will be at Dallas where Southern Methodist, leading the league, meets Texas A&M, in a tie with Arkansas for second.

Arkansas plays Rice at Little Rock.

Southern Methodist feared halfback Jim Hagle would be missing Saturday and already has arranged for Mike Richardson to start in his place. Hagle wrenched his knee in the Texas game last week.

Things were brighter all the way around at Texas A&M where two halfbacks, Lloyd Curtington and Bill Saltee, have returned and can be used for at least limited service against SMU.

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas had another regular out of action — top defense player Barney Giles, who hurt his knee against Southern Methodist. He was the 12th starter miss action this year because of injury.

Royal said he wondered anybody would show up for a game anyway.

Baylor had five starters ailing, including running back Richard Defee and John Westbrook, and Coach John Bridge said gloomily that Baylor's offensive problems had been compounded.

Arkansas had tailback Bruce Maxwell and line-backer Lee Johnson on the doubtful list. Rice sent Chuck Latourette, the star safety men, in with fever and a sore throat. Tackle Jack Doyle twisted his knee in scrimmage.

Texas Tech had no new injuries to worry about as it prepared for Oklahoma State Saturday night. Texas Christian, the other conference member, took the week off.

AFFIRMATIVE SPIRIT RECAPTURED
NEW YORK (AP)—A production of Chekhov's "The Seagull" without the traditional aura of gloom and despair is being prepared for off-Broadway presentation at the New York Theatre.

In a new adaptation, Dempst claims to have recaptured the affirmative spirit which Chekhov intended but that was purportedly distorted in the original Russian production in 1896.

Some Notes on the Pro Football Loop

By MIKE RATHET
NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Nance, Boston's sensational sophomore fullback, suddenly has jumped into range of three American Football League rushing records.

Nance, who gained 204 yards in 38 carries as the Patriots took over the lead in the Eastern Division with a 24-21 victory over Oakland, reached the halfway mark of the season in this situation.

Rushing — 753 yards gained compared with the record of 1,421 set by San Diego's Paul Lowe last year.

Touchdowns scored rushing — Seven scored compared with the 13 lugged across in 1962 by both Cookie Gilchrist and Abner Haynes.

Most rushes — 163 attempts compared with the record of 252 set by Gilchrist last year.

Quote of the Week: That award also goes to Nance, who midway in the third quarter was roughed up and came off the field as the defense went on, moving his left shoulder around as if it bothered him.

"Hurt?" asked Tom Hewitt.
"A little bit," said Nance, "but I've still got the other one."

High, Low: Joe Namath, the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback, hit two career highs in a 33-23 loss to Buffalo. He passed for 343 yards — and five interceptions.

Right now the Super Bowl is without a home, and there just might be a problem or two before the final site is selected.

When the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce turned thumbs down on the use of the Rose Bowl last week, it took away the anticipated site for the first meeting between the AFL and NFL champions.

And it's just possible that the other bowl people — the Sugar Bowl and Orange Bowl also a 33-23 loss to Buffalo. He passed for 343 yards — and five interceptions.

Ortiz Signs to Meet Flash Elorde

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz has signed for his first bout in Madison Square Garden in five years — a Nov. 28 title defense against Flash Elorde of the Philippines.

Ortiz, 30, retained the lightweight title in a riotous defense against Sugar Ramos in Mexico City two weeks ago.

Elorde, 31, is junior lightweight champion.

The United States abandoned the practice of making treaties with the Indian tribes in 1871, but still recognizes treaties made prior to that time.

Smithy Is Still on Critical List

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Claude Smithy, Arkansas' defensive tackle who underwent a three-hour brain operation Sunday, was listed Monday night by hospital authorities as "critical—no change."

Smithy collapsed in the Razorback dressing room Saturday night at College Station and was rushed to Methodist Hospital here to undergo surgery.

Neely of Cowboys May Go to Oilers

DALLAS (AP) — Another action that may delay further any projected removal of tackle Ralph Neely from the Dallas Cowboys' roster has been filed by the National Football League team and a hearing set for Nov. 10 in the 68th District Court here.

Declaring that Dallas had not had its day in court in the contract case of Neely, held by the Supreme Court to be now the property of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League, Erich Klein, attorney for the Cowboys, filed a suit asking a declaratory judgment that a contract Neely signed with Dallas is valid.

The action came three weeks after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled, in effect, that Neely's contract with the Oilers was valid and that he must leave the Cowboys.

Neely signed contracts with both Houston and Dallas. He has been playing with Dallas since that time—two years ago—but it has been on a week-to-week basis for almost a month.

'STOP FOOL'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The sticker attached to the rear of an auto in a downtown parking lot bore this plaintive plea:

State Colleges Dwarf Calif. University

By LYLE W. PRICE
LOS ANGELES, (AP) — California state colleges claim to be the most populous system of higher education in the nation, but concede they are No. 2 to a smaller rival.

The rival is the University of California, which may have fewer students but does have more money, more books and more glory.

The university's Bancroft Library on the Berkeley campus, for instance, alone contains more books than all 18 state college libraries combined. In today's atmosphere, one might expect the state college students to be picketing about this. Instead, it's the professors who are complaining.

And, from San Diego near the Mexican border to Arcata 1,000 miles north, they are unionizing. The union, the Association of California State College Professors, claims membership of nearly half the system's 6,500 members.

"A strike is out of the question," the union's leaders say. But, they added in a report to college trustees this summer, "The situation is intolerable."

The two major complaints are student-teacher ratio and finances:

With around 80,000 students in nine campuses, the University of California student body is dwarfed by the 160,000 students in the state colleges.

Current budgets total $280 million for the university, $158 million for state colleges. The professors says this adds up to smaller salaries as well as smaller libraries.

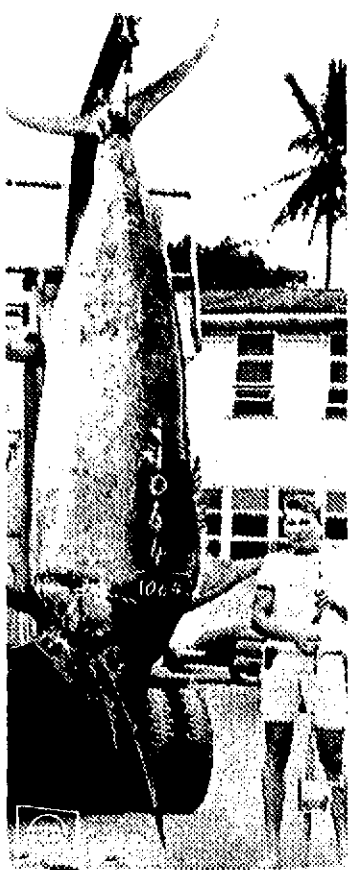

The state college professors also complain of such occasional nonscholarly duties as helping to park cars at football games. But they say it is the student who is most cheated.

At the heart of the issue lies the basic differences between the state college and university systems, the union's leaders and Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke agreed in interviews.

The state college system, they explain, had its roots in the state's early normal schools, the old designation for teacher training colleges. The university flourished with liberal arts and science studies, bolstered by graduate schools to train doctors, lawyers and scientists. This division of education has been continued.

Today, under California law, the state college system is charged with primary responsibility in training teachers. State law designates the university specifically to conduct postgraduate professional schools and specialized scientific study, such as Berkeley's nuclear research.

Conestoga "Stogies" The word stogie to denote a certain type of cigar, often of the low-priced type, stems from a shortened form of Conestoga, a city in Pennsylvania noted for its cigar production, as well as its wagon factories, in the 18th and 19th centuries.

Select the Proper Putty To Assure Good Results

By MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The professional cabinet-maker has a trick of making his own wood putty by mixing fine sawdust with resin type glue. The result is a tough filler that will not shrink and will match the original wood.

There are, however, a number of different compounds on the market that can be used for filling cracks and holes which are easy enough for anyone to use. Even the professional is turning to them. It is important to pick the right type and to apply it properly.

These products are referred to as wood putty, wood plastic or simply filler. They are not the same as paste wood filler, which is brushed on over open grain wood to fill the pores. There are both ready-mixed putty or powders which can be mixed with water to make a filler.

Quick-drying ready-mixed fillers come in tubes or cans and dry quickly as soon as exposed to the air. Though handy, since there is no mixing required, they are also rough and sometimes hard to smooth since they harden quickly before a surface can be smoothed. Since they do not take stain readily, it is best to get one with a color that resembles the wood.

Ordinary Putty
Ordinary linseed oil putty, the kind used on windows, often is used to fill cracks and holes. It consists in part of white lead and oil, is cheap and handles easily. While not for cabinet making, it is ideal for cracks in siding outdoors.

and can be painted over immediately. It does not take stain too well. To use linseed oil putty, simply apply with a putty knife or your finger and smooth.

Linseed oil putty has little strength so do not use it where there may be stress (such as on an open edge) or as an adhesive.

If you have a lot of filling to do, get dry powder filler. Mix it with water as you need it. It is cheap and it lasts indefinitely. What you mix will harden quickly. It adheres well, whether in large amounts or thin layers and it smooths out with better results than the ready-mixed putties.

If a sizable opening must be filled, take preliminary steps to insure a good job. If you can undercut the edges of the opening so that it is narrower at the top than the bottom, this will prevent the filling from pulling out.

Build Filling
If the opening is deep, build up the filling in layers rather than filling it with a single glob. Allow each layer to dry before applying the next. The last layer should be slightly higher than the surrounding surface and then leveled afterwards. This allows for shrinkage.

Linseed oil putty should not be applied to raw wood. Paint, prime or seal the area before applying. If using on a stained surface, mix stain into the soft putty before using it as a filler.

When using dry powder filler, mix only what you can use at one time.

Now, the Next Governor of...

By TOM NOLAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Too much backlash and too few red hot local issues have dimmed Republican chances —rosy a month ago—of scoring substantial gains in gubernatorial elections Nov. 8.

In the South, where a Democratic segregationist will lick a Republican segregationist every time, bright GOP opportunities have vanished in three states. Until the Alabama primary last May, freshman Rep. James Martin (R) appeared to have a leg up on the state house.

But Lurleen Wallace, wife and proxy of Gov. George Wallace (D), now is headed for a landslide victory. Ditto for segregationist James Johnson (D), who is rapidly pulling away from Winthrop Rockefeller (R) in the race to succeed retiring Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus (D).

Just a few weeks ago, Republicans were considering a Howard (Bo) Callaway (R) victory in Georgia as a sure thing. But Lester Maddox (D), whose gun-waving stand in front of his Pickrick Restaurant in 1964 is fast becoming as much a part of the Southern legend as Pickett's charge at Gettysburg, now appears to have a narrow edge which is increasing daily.

Backlash does appear to be giving the GOP new life in Maryland and Florida. It may be short-lived in Maryland, however. Though moderate Republican Spiro T. Agnew's chances improved considerably when George ("A man's home is his castle") Mahoney won the Democratic primary, one observer warns:

"Agnew looks pretty good now. But if there's one more Negro riot—and I don't care if it's in Fairbanks, Alaska—Mahoney is going to win."

In Florida, backlash is helping Claude Kirk (R) close ground on Miami Mayor Robert King High (D), a Robert Kennedy protege.

Governorships are traditionally decided on local rather than national issues, and in 1966 there is a significant lack of the former. Nowhere is it more apparent than in New Hampshire and South Carolina, where GOP hopefuls Hugh Gregg and Joseph Rogers Jr. are groping helplessly for some sort of local handle.

GOP incumbent Govs. Warren Knowles (Wis.) and John Reed (Maine) appear to be somewhat safer than originally figured because their opponents face the same dilemma.

Republicans feel their best opportunities for pickups are in Nebraska and Nevada. In the Cornhusker State, three-term Gov. Frank Morrison (D) is running for the Senate and gubernatorial polls show Norbert Tiemann (R) with a surprisingly large lead over Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen, brother of former Kennedy adviser Theodore Sorensen.

Nevada's Lt. Gov. Paul Laxalt (R) lost a Senate bid in 1964 by only 88 votes as an ardent Goldwaterite. Since then, he has led a successful fight to read the John Birch Society out of the state party. Republicans say his chances of downing Gov. Alan Sawyer (D) are excellent.

Other potential Republican gains:

California: Polls showed Ronald Reagan (R) with a four-point edge over Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown (D) before the recent San Francisco riots, which can only hurt Brown.

Arizona: Phoenix Mayor Jack Williams (R) is currently rated as a slight favorite over Gov. Samuel Goddard (D), who received a disappointing plurality in the mid-September primary.

Minnesota: Despite his lopsided victory in the recent primary, Gov. Karl Rolvaag (D) has to patch up some gaping holes in party unity. Vice President Hubert Humphrey is helping with the caulking, but polls show little-known Harold Levander (R) almost neck and neck with Rolvaag.

The best bets for Democratic gains appear to be in Idaho and Oklahoma. Idaho State Sen. Cecil Andrus (D) currently has a comfortable lead over conservative Donald Samuelson (R), who knocked off Gov. Robert Smylie in the GOP primary Perry Swisher, a moderate Republican running as an independent, will probably hurt Samuelson more than Andrus.

Gov. Henry Bellmon—the only Republican to occupy the state house in Oklahoma history—is retiring, and Preston Moore (D) is expected to reclaim the governorship for the Democrats.

Democratic sources also claim fair chances for pickups in Wyoming, where Ernest Wilkerson (D) got an early start over Stanley Hathaway (R) in the race to succeed Gov. Clifford Hansen (R) and —surprisingly enough—Kansas, generally considered to be the most Republican state in the country.

Kansas is one place where there is a local issue—Republican Gov. William Avery's $48 million revenue package which was pushed through the legislature last year. Taxpayers don't like it, and at least one poll shows Avery trailing Robert Docking (D).

Democrats also see outside chances of winning Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New York, but incumbent GOP Govs. John Volpe (Mass.) and Nelson Rockefeller (N.Y.) and Lt. Gov. Raymond Shater (Pa.) appear to have slight edges at the moment.

Observers are also watching the re-election campaigns of Republican Govs. George Romney (Mich.) and James Rhodes (Ohio) closely, but only to see which of the two not-too-friendly rivals rolls up the biggest plurality.

And voter apathy now predicted may hurt the Republicans. Light turnouts generally help incumbents. Of the 3 state houses up this November, the Democrats now hold 20.

Metcalf Is Depending on Bigwigs

By WICK TEMPLE

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Democratic Sen. Lee Metcalf is depending in part in his campaign for re-election on Robert F. Kennedy, Hubert H. Humphrey, President Johnson and Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana.

That's the talk in Democratic circles in Montana, where Metcalf seeks a second Senate term, and Republican Gov. Tim Babcock hopes to unseat him.

Senate Majority Leader Mansfield has hit the campaign trail for Metcalf and says he'll try to get into every county before Nov. 8.

Sen. Kennedy of New York, visited Great Falls, Butte and Billings plugging hard for Metcalf.

Johnson is expected to dedicate a dam in southeastern Montana Nov. 5 and drop in a few words about Metcalf. Vice President Humphrey spoke at the University of Montana in Missoula.

Most important is Mansfield, whose power at the polls is unquestioned. He is campaigning on a "keep the Democratic team working for Montana's platform."

But no one, least of all Metcalf, is underrating Babcock, who has strong support in rural areas and has mounted an expensive, thorough-going campaign.

The City of Hope has entered into a cooperative agreement with First Baptist Church and Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Home for the improvement of 4th St. between South Main and South Walnut. The church and funeral home have agreed to pay the cost of the curb and gutter and the city will bear the expense of improving the street. The street surface will be part reinforced concrete and part asphalt concrete. The three pictures show work in progress on the curb and gutter. All pictures are taken looking East.

Above—The completed curb and gutter section next to the church building and the excavated section for the curb and gutter section next to the funeral home.

Center—The curb and gutter section being poured adjacent to the church parking lot.

Bottom—Two workmen, Mr. Jones and Mr. Grant finishing the curb and gutter section.

This street improvement will be completed and opened to traffic by Nov. 15 if the excellent weather continues.

Babcock, an outspoken conservative, won his four-year term in the governor's office by 7,251 votes in 1964, when President Johnson carried Montana in a landslide.

Since Montana has a record registration of 330,182 and since many ballots are counted by hand, the outcome of the race may not be known until 12 to 16 hours after the polls close.

Candidates Encounter Voter Apathy

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Warren G. Magnuson said today candidates across the country are encountering voter apathy that may indicate little change in the political complexion of Congress.

"There are some hot spots, of course — states in which there are some real, live races — but generally there seems to be a great deal of apathy among the voters," he said.

Magnuson, Washington Democrat who heads the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, indicated in a telephone interview he thinks this failure of the average citizen to respond to Viet Nam, inflation and other issues will result in very little net turnover, particularly in Senate races.

"I don't think the Senate line-up will change more than one or two votes, either way," he said. "We could gain a seat or two or we could lose one or two."

Magnuson's view that the current Senate lineup of 67 Democrats and 33 Republicans will not be altered materially was shared to an extent by Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee.

Morton told a news conference Monday he was claiming "only a modest (net) gain of three seats" in the Senate. He said he thinks the Republicans will reclaim the 38 House seats they lost in 1964 and add four or five governors to their list.

The Kentucky senator, a former GOP national chairman, predicted Republican Charles H. Percy will defeat Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas in Illinois and that GOP Sen. Robert P. Griffin will turn back the challenge of former Gov. G. Mennen Williams in Michigan.

He said he is confident that Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, a Negro, will defeat former Gov. Endicott Peabody to hold the seat being vacated by GOP Sen. Leverett Saltonstall.

The Harris Survey, a copy-right private poll printed in Monday's Washington Post, reported Democrats on a nationwide basis have increased their margin in House contests in the past month but have slipped in the governorship races.

Jim Pagliaroni hit 17 home runs for Pittsburgh in 1965, the most homers ever hit by a Pirates' catcher.

THE DESK WITH EVERYTHING, unveiled at Chicago's Business Equipment Exposition, gives a busy executive fingertip control of his operation. Chicago secretary Ann Larsen tests the controls for built-in equipment performing such tasks as taking dictation, recording conferences, taping phone calls to the office staff. Price tag: $14,000.
